Every year, Burns Night is celebrated in Scotland and abroad to mark Robert Burns' unique contribution to Scottish culture and history. Enjoy an evening of poems, piping and 'Airs on the Fiddle', as ROSL commemorates the life of Scotland's most beloved bard, poet and lyricist.

The first Burns supper was held in July 1801 when nine of Burns' close friends got together to mark the fifth anniversary of their friend's death. Taking place at Burns Cottage in Alloway, the night included a tasty meal (haggis, of course), performances of Burns' work, and a speech in honour of the great Bard (now known as the Immortal Memory).
